Adventures Extraordinary.
[From the New York World.]

For some four years past a young female, the particular protégée of a wealthy and prominent banker of this city, has been practising a most surprising and successful deception on the community at large, by assuming the dress and speaking the manners of one of the sterner sex, but unfortunately for herself she came to grief yesterday by an ignominious arrest at the hands of a lynx-eyed sergeant of police. The young woman, known to her intimate female friends as Julia, but rejoicing in the cognomen of Charlie Morgan among her deceived male acquaintances, is a beauty of the brunette order; but her features are, as may be supposed, of the masculine type, yet not sufficiently so to render her at all less good-looking. She is of the medium height, well formed, yet has none of that peculiarity of form which renders deception in such cases almost impossible. She wears her hair cut short and parted at the side and back, and usually has it brushed well forward. If the stories about this remarkable woman are to be credited, and they come from authentic sources, she has not worn the usual dress of her sex for nearly four years past, but has constantly appeared both in public and private in male attire of the latest style and most expensive materials. During all this time she has been in the company of the wealthy banker mentioned above, who has lavished large sums of money upon her to gratify her peculiar whim of counterfeiting a fast young man. As the nephew of the banker she has been introduced into some of the best families in this city, and has necessarily been on intimate terms with the fast young bloods about town, and has been their companion in many a spree. In the character she assumed, she spent her money freely, drank champagne cocktails, and smoked cigars with the fastest of her boon companions, and occasionally indulged in a "swear." Her "uncle" supplied her with the needful to gratify her extravagant tastes, and many of the bloods about town will remember the champagne suppers succeeding visits to the opera at which "Charlie Morgan" acted the host with such natural felicity that her real sex was not for a moment suspected. During the summer the "uncle," accompanied by his charming "nephew," made the rounds of the watering places where the nephew paid such court to the fair ladies as to cause many a heartache. Her team was the fastest and the most stylish on the road, and she handled the reins with such a masterly hand, that a ride behind her spanking team was considered so great a boon that the ladies almost fought for the privilege.

She treated the arrest very coolly, laughed at the absurd idea that she was anything but what she appeared to be, and so nonchalant was she, and so perfect her disguise, that the Sergeant was for a moment staggered. He however took her to the station house where she gave her name as Charles F. Ward, to which the police added the aliases of Morgan and Julia. By order of Captain Caffrey she was locked up in one of the rooms of the station house. She was attired in a black broadcloth frock coat, dark vest, cut low to show a broad plaited shirt-bosom adorned with handsome diamond studs, light cassimere pantaloons, patent leather boots, and fine black Derby hat. All these articles were of the finest quality and most exquisite cut. She also wore a heavy gold neck-chain and an elegant gold watch. Her entire outfit was perfect, and her appearance would stand the closest scrutiny. She really appeared to be a fast, hard-boiled youth of perhaps eighteen summers. She persisted for some time that she was a man, but on a proposition she made looking to a personal examination she admitted the truth. In the meantime her friends had heard of her mishap and were making extraordinary efforts to procure her release. Miss Louise Walcott called and had a long interview with her, and numerous other friends called. Finally the services of Justice Ledwith were procured and that official called at the station house to police regulations, the magistrate proceeded to the Jefferson Market Police Court, where he opened court and ordered the prisoner to be brought before him. Captain Caffrey produced the prisoner and after hearing the complaint of Sergeant Fiddle, the magistrate remanded Julia and discharged her. She left the court room accompanied by a bevy of friends, and it is thought will not be caught in such a scrape again.

About "Horses."—From a "Composition on Horses," in the Rochester Union, we take the following:

Horses are a general thing get too much licking and too little feed. If a man loses his hat while driving his horse he licks the horse to pay for it. If he runs into another wagon through his own carelessness he licks his horse to make it all right. If it is he does anything he gets licked for it. A great many horses know "a darned sight" more than their drivers, and if they could change places with their society at large would be the gainers, and so would the horses, in some respects. Auctioneers are sometimes cruel to horses, and knock them down in the public streets with their mallets.

Probably the best friend to the horse in America is Mr. Bergh of New York. He is no ice-berg, but a warm-hearted man who has entitled himself to the lasting gratitude of the entire animal kingdom; and there isn't a sensible horse in the country who would not share his best blanket and his last meal with Mr. Bergh.

Oh barbarous men! your cruel breasts assuage; Why vent ye on the generous steed your rage? Does not his service earn your daily bread—Your wives, your children, by his labors fed? Is, as the Samian taught, the soul revives, And, shifting seats, in other bodies lives, Carmen, transformed, the groaning load shall draw, Whom other tyrants with the lash shall awe.

MEDICAL.
BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL.
ESTABLISHED AS A REFUGE FROM QUACKERY.
THE ONLY PLACE WHERE A CURE CAN BE OBTAINED.

DR. JOHNSON has discovered the most Certain, Speedy, and only Effectual Remedy in the World for Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Stricture, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling, Dimness of Sight, Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, No. 6 or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach, or Bowels—those Terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims, than the poisoning of Syphilis, to the Mariners of Ulysses, highlighting the most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN.
Especially, who have become the victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of Young Men of the most excellent talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entered listening Senators with the thunders of eloquence, or waited to ecstasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.
Married Persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, being aware of Physical Weakness, Organic Debility, Deformities, speedily cured.
He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS.
Immediately cured and full vigor restored.
This distressing affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible, is the penalty paid by the victims of impropriety. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The System becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, and Wasting of the Frame, Consumption, Decay and Death.

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known, many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, and sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.
Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, uniting them for either business, study, society or marriage.
These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Derangement of the Senses, Preconceptions, Nervousness, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.
Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming nervous and emaciated, and having the singular appearance about the eyes, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN.
Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in, a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are deeply felt, even when asleep, and, if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.
What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life by the consequences of a single indulgence in the habit of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating elect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote conjugal happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage; the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with your own.

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.
When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrible disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sorethroat, disease of nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodules on the skin, sores and ulcers, blotches on the face, head and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrible
